DISTRICT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PORTLAND (Ore.) Aug. 5.—[Exclusive to THE TIMES.] Trouble is brewing in the Blue Mountains, forty miles south of Pendleton, on the Columbia River, between the cattlemen and sheep herders for grazing purposes.

The cattlemen some time ago established a dead line, and a band of sheep which crossed the line were shot, while a sheep herder was fired upon.

On Tuesday, and the settlers informed before matters are settled. There are no sheep owned in the valley, yet each summer thousands of them are herded upon the land which has formerly been monopolized by the cattlemen until the latter were forced to turn their stock into the pasture to keep them from starving. Many years cattlemen have had more or less trouble with the sheep over the range, but it was nothing like this that any concerned about the safety of the sheep.

In the spring an association of the cattlemen, and a dead line, beyond, which sheep

herders were warned not to take their flock.

One band of sheep

was scattered by the cattlemen.

The herd, which had been scattered by the cattlemen, was gathered together again.

Now the sheepmen are afraid that serious trouble is in store.

TESTING REVISED CODES.

MEANS MUCH TO STATE.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The Supreme Court was confronted today in a difficult proceeding, the main point of the Revised Codes adopted at the last session of the Legislature, and which went into effect on July 1.

The Attorney General first brought up the matter and in every case the same argument was made.

The question is whether or not the section of the State Constitution relating to the revision of laws had been complied with by the Legislature.

On the outcome of the decision there depends the settlement of a multitude of legal questions.

The Attorney General argued that the revision of laws had been compiled with by the Legislature.

I.) Aug. 5.—The large and speedy yawls, Vigilant, Navaho and Ailsa and the crack boat sloops Rainbow and Imp, started off in the course of the yawls for first and another for the sloops owned by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt Jr. The course was twelve miles toeward and return.*The yawls started in a good eight-foot breeze from about east by east, which soon fell to two winds, one by the Navaho with the Vigilant last. Of the sloops the Rainbow crossed shortly ahead of the Virgin.*The starting time, as seen from shore, was Allen, 11:12:34; Navaho, 11:11:6; Virginia, 11:11:47. The racing time of the sloops appeared to be Rainbow, 11:16:30; Virginia, 11:16:45. All yawls broke their anchors on crossing the line. At 12:45 in the afternoon the Imp died away when the yawls were within three miles of the finish line, and all five craft are now practically becalmed. The wind has shifted to the east, and if it increases they will have a run home and no windward work during the race. The Navaho finished at 1:10:02; Allen, crossed at 1:12:35; and Virginia, 1:14:49.*On the demands as to the future of the Independence have come out except in an indirect way. The crew of the Independence, back from the Fishak state for two years, was paid $10,000. The Fishak Handicap, in which a load of oysters was carried home in training, including the old black mare Imp, started. The handicap was won by Rockton, who was tenth in one to ten in the betting. Imp, finished fifth.*The Flank stakes resulted in a close finish. I am certain a good team of Americans would, to quote Sir Thomas, win the cup." They play good over there, but I have not seen any superior games here. We can beat the English in almost everything. Our men are winning every day, and the American jockeys are outrunning their English brothers. There is no feeling against the American trainers and jockeys."*FIGHTING THE GAMBLERS.*SARATOGA'S NEW CRUSADE.*BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.] NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—There is much speculation regarding the outcome of the fight against gambling, says the World, N. Y., correspondent of the World. The arrest of Richard A. Conard, president of the famous Union Club at Saratoga, is looked upon as the beginning of the long-continued attack of the pool-room men against the clubhouse. Lowry Steinmetz of New York City, who represents the American Jockey Club, says that Conard's clubhouse will be closed tight. Stainback also says that friends to arrest persons who are responsible for the violation of the race track.*He further says that will obtain necessary evidence at once. The officials of the race track profess that they are not alarmed over the threat and trouble. For the month of July, 1901, the total amount of paid advertising in THE SUNDAY TIMES exceeded any other corresponding month in the paper's history, taking four Sundays to the month as a basis of calculation.

The following figures prove the discriminating judgment of careful advertisers who make use of the columns of THE TIMES to bring their business before the public:

THREE YEARS' COMPARATIVE EXHIBIT.

THIS IS NOT THE SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN QUESTION.

Here are some significant extracts: "The scene on the wave front today was a peaceful one. Not a single vessel left port. The steamer George W. Elder arrived this morning from Portland, and as soon as she was made fast to her dock the crew joined the strikers. Her passengers, baggage, mails, some live stock and a large shipment of oysters were allowed to be landed by order of the federation, but all the remainder of her cargo was either to be unshipped or her crew was either to be unshipped or her labor or be kept in her hold."

"In the coal situation there has been no visible change since yesterday. At a meeting of the Coal Teamsters' Union, the City Front Federation was requested to issue no more special permits to persons desiring to have coal hauled, as the privilege granted to some institutions had been abused either willfully or through neglect. As a consequence of this hint, no permits at all were issued today."

The above is not from a description of happenings in the Holy Empire of Russia, or in that section of South Africa which is under martial rule. No; it is simply extracts from a San Francisco dispatch published in The Times of Sunday last, describing the condition of affairs which now prevails in the City of the Golden Gate, otherwise known as the City of Strikes.

Unhappy San Francisco! Even now, when her leading merchants, driven to desperation by the growing exactations of the labor unions, have at length made up their mind to stand firm in this-his ditch, it appears that they are only receiving a little-warm support in quarters where they might naturally be expected to be backed up to the utmost. The Argonaut recently called attention to the remarkable fact that, on the day when the strike leaders had announced that they would order a general strike in San Francisco, calling out 15,000 men, stopping work on all the docks bounding San Francisco Bay, and practically blocking the business of the city; not one of the three morning newspapers of San Francisco had any editorial reference whatever to this crisis. Since then the daily press of San Francisco has carefully refrained from printing anything that could be construed as unfavorable to the men who have the commerce of California's greatest city—and to some extent the commerce of the entire State—by the throat. It is a pity—pity 'tis true—that the best element of San Francisco looks to the daily press of that city for support in times of trouble, that press is found to be little better than a broken reed. It was so during the great railroad strike of 1894. It is so now. Will it always be so, or will the San Francisco newspapers one day discover that it does not pay, even from the low standpoint of profit and loss, for a newspaper to pander to the mob element, when that element is in the wrong? It may bring in a few more subscriptions for the time being, but it leaves a bad after-taste in the mouth of the general public, upon whom all newspapers must depend for support.

It has been claimed, in correspondence from San Francisco, that some of the courts of that city have also shown an inclination to lean toward the strikers having an eye to future political preferment. This is one of the necessary evils of an elective judiciary. However, there is evidently at least one judge in San Francisco who is not afraid to come out squarely on the side of law and order, as did our Federal Judge Ross during the memorable railroad strike. About a week ago Judge Ross of San Francisco issued a sweeping injunction against striking cooks and waiters, to prevent them from interfering with the business of their employers, by picketing men around entrances to the restaurants, etc., etc. He has done a great deal of good, and his example should be followed by other judges. We hope that he will be like the fellow who caught the tiger by the tail and then implored his bystanders, "For th' love av hiven, b'yee, pome an' help me let go av th' beast!"

It is reported that Niagara Falls will run dry in some three thousand years. Even 'em yet.

THE RIGHT NOT TO ORGANIZE.

We read a great deal in the dispatches from Pittsburgh, San Francisco, and other strike centers, about "the right to organize." A persistent effort is made to create the impression that in the pending conflict between workers and their employers, the latter are denying to the former a right to which they are entitled—the right to associate themselves together in organizations for the purpose of bettering their condition. The efforts to create such an impression in the public mind are uncandid and not honest. They are designed to mislead the public, and to create a measure of sympathy for the strikers while the latter are not entitled.

In the pending trouble there has been and is no denial of the right of the workmen to "organize." The employers have not refused to employ members of the unions. Only in rare cases do employers resort to such an expedient, and almost invariably these are cases where they are forced by the extortionate and unreasonable demands of labor organizations to adopt some vigorous measure of self-protection.

In all this glib talk about "the right to organize"—which nobody denies—there is danger that another right, which is at least equally as sacred, may be overlooked. This right is, indeed, persistently, purposely, and systematically ignored by the strikers. It is the right not to organize; the right of every free man to refrain from joining labor unions, if he so elects; to dispose of his labor, or the products thereof, in such manner and on such terms as he can agree upon with those who desire to purchase his labor or its products. This is a right to which every American citizen is fully and freely entitled under the fundamental law of the land. It is an inherent right to which every man is as much entitled as he is to draw the breath of life.

It is the very essence of the strikers' efforts, in most of the industrial disputes now pending, to deprive certain other workmen of this inherent and constitutional right, and to compel these other workmen, whether they will or not, to become members of labor unions or be deprived of the means of earning a livelihood. If the demands of the strikers were granted, the effect would be to force all laboring men into the unions upon the alternative of loss of employment, beggary, and starvation. The demand of the strikers is in effect a demand that their employers shall assist them, and in fact become co-conspirators with them, against the rights and the liberties of the men who for reasons which are sufficient to themselves, do not wish to join labor unions.

MEXICAN EDITOR'S ATTACK ON LOCAL MEXICAN CONSUL

Senor Don Andrade Spies He Can't
Be in Two Places at the Same Time—
Rival Organization Preparing Two Celebrations.

Mexican patriotism is so warm here about that it fairly simmers.

There seem to be two rival organizations among the Spanish-American residents of Los Angeles, both of which are making preparations for celebrating the "Mexican Fourth of July," September 18.

"La Junta Patriótica de Juarez" is the name taken by a committee recently formed to get up a demonstration, and this committee named the Mexican Consul, Don Guillermo Andrade, as its honorary President.
After being notified, Señor Andrade sent a note to the junta, saying that he was pleased with the honor and would do all he could to promote the success of the undertaking; but as he had made previous arrangements of observing the day, he might not be able to participate in the junta's celebration.

This, the editor of El Monitor Mexicano, the Mexican weekly published here, takes occasion to lambast Señor Andrade. "The committee," he says in his last issue, "did not act with sound judgment in extending this invitation to the junta, as it should have known by experience that he is too aristocratic to associate with nobodies." Meanwhile, we advise the aristocratic committee of Juarez not to be disconcerted by this effort, as we think the thought that there may be two celebrations of the 18th of September, but that they work with all the more zeal to carry out their happy idea, remembers that "nothing succeeds like success."
Thus, if you have a good idea, go ahead and do it, and don't let anyone tell you you can't do it.

Don't point a loaded gun at anything, except the "It-is-hot-man" in this case. That is all.

Don't carry a gun into the woods or mountains during the closed season. It is a useless encumbrance. A camera is far preferable.

Don't pull down the barrel of a gun. It might be a hard matter for the Coroner to identify your remains by nothing but the trunk.

Don't tell every hunter you meet that you have the best gun made. It's not true.

Don't take a gun with you into the deep river, either piano valley in the year or small fireplace hope to give it contains on reliable plans or promises as we are as much rightly and effective other so-called as, as the day
more effective babbling brook.

Don't pull a gun out of a wagon muzzle end foremost, whether it is loaded or not. You'll find your family won't thank you for it.

Don't try to climb a fence with your gun cocked. If you do, it would be no fun for the other fellow who has to pack a dead or wounded man twenty miles to a doctor or undertaker.

THE STRIKE OF THE STEEL WORKERS.

An Army of Seventy-six Thousand Men in Idleness—Camping in the Strikers' "Elysian Fields" Up River.

BY GILSON WILLETT.

(Special Correspondence of Collier's Weekly, August 3.)

Seventy-six thousand men on strike, but not a head broken. An army in idleness, but no more clubbing than usual by the police in the district of iron, steel and tin. Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Monaca, Aliquippa—these places in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana—have the appearance of a holiday, with stores wide open. Gayety rather than gloom pervades the crowds. Everybody is out in Sunday clothes. On Pittsburgh street corners groups of men seem bent on holding up the walls of buildings. But where is the great mass of the strikers?

This is one of the numerous excursion boats—about a dozen daily—with wives and their families—and sailing up the Monongahela river. Here, the strikers, their war office, in Pittsburgh, President Shaffer stood between two members of his staff, his arm around the shoulders of each. Turning to a visitor, Shaffer said: "The recognition of the rights of all men who work in rolling mills to organize, this is what the Amalgamated Association is fighting for."

"What must be the form of recognition?" The latter statement is not substantiated by the men. Investigation revealed the fact that the majority are willing and anxious to join the Amalgamated Association, and will do so, if granted permission by the company. The consideration is that those employed in the Steel Hoop Company in the non-union plants have, since the beginning of the strike, voluntarily joined the union ranks.

What lies beneath this holiday spirit, this fishing and camping, these high jinks on river banks? Answer, the strike fund. It should be emphasized, to the credit of the men, that the strike funds are not used July 1st. For months beforehand, therefore, the men were warned of the coming of this time, and by circular letters, in distinction to the strike funds, were asked to save their money. So their savings will carry them—that is about half of them—through August, and on Labor day "benefit" money will begin.

Thought benefits are not paid in summer. Yet the men who have not been called out must contribute 1 per cent. of their earnings, regardless of month or season.

We climbed up the cliffs on the south side of the saffron stream called Monongahela, overlooking that antipodes of civilization, the city of Pittsburgh. Smoke could be seen belching from a hundred chimneys, shrouding the city.

160 DIEG. OF HEAT.

When Shaffer left the pulpit and returned to the rolling mills, he weighed only 140 pounds. In a few months he sign the scale for the other mills, even though the men were organized and were forced to remain at work by the Amalgamated officers during the recent conferences with the manufacturers.

The American Sheet Steel Company has agreed to re-arrange working hours for the organized mills only, and have required their employes in non-union mills to sign an agreement which prevents their being organized or union men, even though so desired.

"These are but three of the underlying companies of the United States Steel Company," said Mr. Shaffer, "and our main demand is that all the mills, union and non-union alike, because that would mean their cooperation with Shaffer to force the man into the Amalgamated Association.

The major demands of the non-union men, the steel company claims, are not desires of connecting themselves with the Amalgamated Association, and for that reason it would be unfair to sign the scale."

The latter statement is not substantiated by the men. Investigation revealed the fact that the majority are willing and anxious to join the Amalgamated Association, and will do so, if granted permission by the company. The consideration is that those employed in the Steel Hoop Company in the non-union plants have, since the beginning of the strike, voluntarily joined the union ranks.

What lies beneath this holiday spirit, this fishing and camping, these high jinks on river banks? Answer, the strike fund. It should be emphasized, to the credit of the men, that the strike funds are not used July 1st. For months beforehand, therefore, the men were warned of the coming of this time, and by circular letters, in distinction to the strike funds, were asked to save their money. So their savings will carry them—that is about half of them—through August, and on Labor day "benefit" money will begin.

Thought benefits are not paid in summer. Yet the men who have not been called out must contribute 1 per cent. of their earnings, regardless of month or season.

We climbed up the cliffs on the south side of the saffron stream called Monongahela, overlooking that antipodes of civilization, the city of Pittsburgh. Smoke could be seen belching from a hundred chimneys, shrouding the city.

had become more awe-inspiring, more terrible, so far as those strikers who are organized and were forced to remain at work by the Amalgamated officers during the recent conferences with the manufacturers.

LOCAL BARBERS NOT YET EXAMINED.

WAITING FOR JUDGE DRAKE TO COME BACK HOME.

President Phillips of the Los Angeles Barber's Union anxious to knock out the Graduates of the Barber's College.

Since tonsorial artists have been put on the same footing with physicians, dentists and druggists, in the matter of being required to undergo an examination and post a certificate from an official board in their places of business, more or less interest has attached to the new law, which dignifies barbers with the term "practice."

There are in Los Angeles 117 barber shops and 22 or more bars, and the examination question has been much discussed. There is a general lack of information on the subject among the barbers, none of whom have yet been supplied with certificates, and there is no guessing bunch, with a sickly-blue cover, to get on the wagon, he said:

"Gosh! I wish I could sell them that fast."

Another of the boys struggled with his bundle, but finally got it on board the wagon. As he pushed back his cap, he wiped the perspiration from his forehead, he remarked to the bystander:

"See what! There's lots of them—hain't there?"

"I know it!" yelled the driver.

"Top hair, that's enough!" came from the interior.

"C'mon!" and off went the Sunday Herald in the chair shop.

A PORTER'S MASCOT.

An old porter, who is known as "Jack," owns a "concession" down at the Arcadia Inn.

He wears a big sign on his cap, and is privileged to carry baggage for what there is in it. Sometimes he makes 25 cents a day, and well, sometimes he doesn't. A day, two years ago, he made only 10 cents, and last Sunday he repeated the feat. It makes the old man very weary on such days, and he up agony refuses to stay "poor."

He tells his troubles to his porter, who is a young fellow, and yesterday about the magnitude of his salary.

"Jack" pinched up the corner vest which showed the shape of a heart.

"See that?" he asked. "The day I had m' wife sew it in there hasn't had no bad luck since."

"Not a week ago; the prominent markets at church year in and year out, and now I see that 10 cents in either ear that'll fix things for another two weeks."

LEAGUERS STILL.

Yesterday many Ewerton Leaguers were to be seen among the public about the railway stations.

"Many Leaguers here yet?" asked one of the delegates.

"Yes, lots of them. I was surprised to see the great number of us among the people at church year in and year out. We are delighted with Los Angeles and many will remain here for a week or two."

Most of those seen yesterday were on their way to Long Beach and Compton.

COST OF THE STRIKE.

Will Fall Heavily on San Francisco.

Employers Learning Useful Lesson.

Violence Prevented Only by the Police—Case of a Fruit Grower.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Whether the strike here is settled shortly or not, it will have cost San Francisco dear. It has given the employers of this city a lesson in the futility of trusting union leaders, that will bring them to their senses, if it is expensively gained. The strike has already given a cohesion to the interests of employers which will doubtless make them united in the future as they are now, in the protection of their interests from the assaults of the unions.

The strike has made it plain that the unions are running things, but who are afraid to oppose them. It is undoubtedly true that the majority of union men affected by this strike are not believers in it: they have been afraid not to go out when ordered by their officials, and any voice they may have had in the matter has been stifled by the shouts of the agitators, who accuse them of being cowards and playing to the employers' side.

There is a minority of the strikers who are determined to make non-union men or management pay for their wrongs. They are turned out in a few weeks, to the injury of all good barbers, who have spent years in learning the trade.

Examiner P. W. Drake, who was selected by the barbers of Los Angeles as their representative on the board, has been working on it for twenty-five years, and Shaffer himself worked on it for ten years. The strike has been three years a scaper of faces. He thought it would be a good idea if the candidates for the royal order of scrapers were compelled to try their hand on the faces of the members of the board, to examine them, then they would know where they were at.

"It will knock out," said President Phillips, "these barber-college barbers, where they are turned out in a few weeks, to the injury of all good barbers who have spent years in learning the trade."

Employers will be of much benefit to the trade in this city," said Phillips. "In weeding out those who have not worked three years at the trade, all such could only work as apprentices."

"I agree with T. Pierpont Morgan," said Mr. Shaffer. "This strike is one that can scarcely be arbitrated, because it is one of principle."

To which might be added, as a matter of perhaps, wisdom, remember that this is a true story. In one of the steel plants three men called upon the manager and informed him that he was employing too many apprentices for every five journeymen, men—or, in this case, about six in all—while the boys in the mill numbered nine. "It is incomprehensible," he said, "that they should be able to work at the same time."

With a leg awash in the iron platform, out of which flame leaped, as in the trap-door scene in the last act of "Faust," and draws up the curtain, the man goes away dazed, and henceforth guesses that his rate of pay is according to Hoyle's rule of thumb.

He will take the word of those who understand the thing.

SUING FOR RECOVERY OF TAXES PAID.

MONEY ALREADY TURNED OVER TO COUNTY TREASURER.

Question Whether Orange County Tax Collector Would Have to "Dig Up" If He Should Lose the Case—Bicycles Disappearing.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 5.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] James McMillan of Bolsa has again begun suit against the County Tax Collector to recover taxes collected several months ago on the Bolsa drainage district. A case similar to the one filed today was in the courts about two months ago, but was shelved on account of an alleged irregularity. This time a large number of residents from other property owners in the vicinity of the drainage canal for taxes paid have been assigned to McMillan, and he brings suit to recover payment of all. The claims aggregate over $100,000 and are distributed among ditch residents as follows: James McMillan, $22,222; Nettie Gibbs, $19,25; H. F. Townsend, $19,61; Jacob Ross, $15,76; Oliver Stewart, $13,61; William Kessner, $22; C. C. Campbell, $12,61; Mrs. C. M. Martin, $12,61; Mary McMillan, $11,82; T. Martin, $11,82; Mr. Waddell, $11,82; Mrs. Waddell, $11,82; E. C. Phelps, $11,82; C. C. Phelps, $11,82; C. F. Winslow, $11,82; Henry Winter, $11,82; Phillip F. West, $11,82; F. M. Graham, $11,82; J. A. Nelson, $11,82; A. J. Thom, son, $11,82; H. D. Lanfair, $11,82; E. L. Lanfair, $11,82; J. C. Thomson, $11,82; J. G. Blaylock, $11,82; A. O. Thompson, $11,82; S. C. Thompson, $11,82; H. S. Bratton, $11,82; Mrs. J. M. Martin, $11,82; W. F. Lindner, $11,82; Mrs. Katherine Morgan, $11,82; David Brush, $11,82; John Brush, $11,82; A. F. Lintner, $11,82; W. S. Burdick, $11,82; Harry Guthrie and R. Kesterstein paid $11,82 each Saturday for disturbing the peace.

The money has already been turned over to the County Treasurer, and it is a question whether, if the plaintiff should win his case, it could be recovered from the Treasurer, or whether the Tax Collector would have to "dig up."

SANTA ANA BREVITIES: Santa Ana seems to be afflicted with an epidemic of bicycle stealing; three having disappeared in as many days. Dr. J. P. Boyd of North Main street left his porch in the morning and was gone. It was a chainless Columbia, 1895 pattern. The doctor had just had new tires put on both wheels.

Mrs. G. P. Barnett, who has been a resident of Santa Ana since Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Foster of Tustin, returned to her home in Pomona today.

REDLANDS RUNAWAY PROBABLY FATAL.

OLD RESIDENT SERIOUSLY HURT ON THE STREET.

The Late James McIlhenney, One of the City's Wealthy Men, Broke His Neck by Falling from His Bench on a Shootout.

REDLANDS, Aug. 5.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] M. A. Crawford, an old resident of Redlands, was seriously injured in a runaway here yesterday that he is not expected to recover. Mr. Crawford lost control of his team on State street, and after running some distance the horses suddenly swerved into an alley, overturning and smashing the rig, and throwing the driver heavily to the ground. A physician was quickly summoned, and the unconscious man was taken home. An examination showed a fracture of the skull, severe body bruises and some internal injury.

DEATH OF JAMES MCILHENNEY.

It was with great surprise and sorrow that Redlands learned yesterday through a short dispatch in The Times of the death of James McIlhenney, on the streets of Stimson, while en route to Seattle. Private advice received from Seattle state that McIlhenney fell from his bunk, breaking his neck, ten days ago.

McIlhenney was one of the wealthy men of Redlands, and with C. J. Curtis owned the West-American Fruit Company, one of the largest in the State. He also had large interests in the East, and was a member of the junior partner in the great gas-fruit company of Helms & McIlhenney, in Philadelphia.

His health had been failing for some time, and had recently been confined to a bed.

He was an enthusiastic sailor, and owned a modern yacht at Atlantic City, N. J. He decided on a trip up the Coast to Seattle, and was invited to go on the Stimson, and to evade the rainy day he had been advised to "wait it out."

Mr. Curtis and Miss McIlhenney will leave for Seattle today, and will take the remains east for interment. McIlhenney's remains will be placed in the Adams crypt, and have not yet been heard from. Deceased was 30 years old.

ACCIDENT IN MOUNTAINS.

Returning campers from Fredonia Park this morning report a rumor that Everett Harford, a Redlands young man, was accidentally shot while hunting on the north slope yesterday morning. Inquiries at Fredonia and Brookside this morning, however, elicited no news.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

WILLIAM KELSO ARRAIGNED.

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 5.—William Kelso was arraigned in the Superior Court today for the murder of Harry Beckman. He was given a trial date for November 10. His attorney, H. E. Rice, Esq., appointed by the court for his defense, and by Everett L. Alford, Esq., of Bakersfield, who came at the request of Kelso's father.

VENTURA COUNTY.

JOKE ON THE JOKER.

VENTURA, Aug. 5.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] Judge R. T. Williams today ordered the Sheriff to summon a panel of 12 jurors to sit on the 20th inst. From the twelve men who tried to try C. Wachsmuth for attempted murder will be chosen.

Services were held in the new Christian Church corner Santa Clara and Fir streets, yesterday for the first time Rev. J. A. Wickham presiding.

Through the instrumentality of the Board of Trade a San Francisco company is investigating the possibility of establishing a factory. The board has also received inquiries regarding Ventura as a suitable location for cement works, the best of material for which is said to be found near town.

The test made by the supervisors in sprinkling a mile of road east of town with oil was a fair proof underlined with the word expected. Supervisor Gabbert, whose district the test road is, says graveling will be necessary to make it a success.

Charles E. McElroy, president of the Ventura Abstract Company, by a blunder today had the officers of the law beat him for an hour. He telephoned for an order for a liver rig. When he left the office he found a man attached to a bologna tied near the foot of the stairs, he deliberately climbed and drove to Montalvo. The owner of the team appeared later and saw nothing was known of it there, and the Coroner's office has not been notified. The young man's friends are making an effort to communicate with the other lumber camps in the mountains today.

REDLANDS BREVITIES: The late James McIlhenney, one of the city's wealthiest men, was seriously injured in a runaway here yesterday that he is not expected to recover.

Constable Kochier and family are spending a few weeks at Long Beach.
